iving Thanks is the first American Tradition

Thanksgiving was the first holiday to be celebrated in our country, and it remains a unique American festival. On Thanksgiving Day our differences fade when, with a common inspiration, we look upwards to express our gratitude for the richness of our land and the freedom of our lives. We have come far since those first bleak Pilgrim days. We have so much to be thankful for. This Thanksgiving, let us remember the past while we pray for the future.

GRAND OPENING

ving Thanks is the first American Tradition

Thanksgiving was the first holiday to be celebrated in our country, and it remains a unique American festival. On Thanksgiving Day our differences fade when, with a common inspiration, we look upwards to express our gratitude for the richness of our land and the freedom of our lives. We have come far since those first bleak Pilgrim days. We have so much to be thankful for. This Thanksgiving, let us remember the past while we pray for the future.

Another industrial executive has warned of the need for better highways in Western Pennsylvania before the district loses jobs to more favored localities.

Charles Beeghly, chairman of the board of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., told the Society of Industrial Realtors at Pittsburgh this week:

"Lacking modern highway systems, Western Pennsylvania manufacturers can only become less competitive in the markets of the nation. They cannot build highways themselves, but they can - and will - build new plants nearer their markets if that is the price of remaining competitive."

THE PLANNED Beaver County Expressway from Greater Pittsburgh Airport to the Turnpike and some Pittsburgh area projects were described by Beeghly as fundamentals of the roadbuilding program.

But he indicated development of a modern, industrial highway program is lagging and urged legislatures and the administration to dedicate themselves realistically to move ahead into the design and construction of many new roads.

"To wait until more federal money is available is like trying to board a ship after the gangplank has been raised," he said, pointing out the roads will have to be paid for by the state.

The fact that 85 per cent of steel produced in Western Pennsylvania is shapped elsewhere for fabrication points up

THE NEW MIDLAND Bridge is another vital link in the Beaver County system, but there is greater need for further road development, especially for Route 30, key east-west artery to Pittsburgh from Ohio, and for Route 68, growing more important as the county's Ohio River roadway.

These two roads are not only important for Beaver County. They are also vital to the East Liverpool and North Hancock County complex.

Ohio has, with the new Route 11, brought modern highways almost to the borders of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

In the interests of economic development and for new travel arteries vital to progress, Pennsylvania and West Virginia should devote new attention to the Tri-State Area before, as Mr. Beeghley predicts, both states find themselves missing

The Ultimate Horror

John F. Kennedy's countrymen would be satisfied to keep the full testimony of the Warren Commission's report on the awful events in Dallas in the confidential files. They have confidence in the commission's findings. They do not demand every shred of the testimony on which the findings were based.

But, the crime being what it was and the repercussions being what they were, it is necessary to put everything in the record on public display, to offset any possible accusation of concealment. Hence, there will be a great deal of the kind of distasteful detail that has been given out the last few days.

The ultimate horror of the Kennedy assassination is the realization that our society is interlaced and intertwined with people like Lee Harvey Oswald. They go from childhood to their graves on a zigzag course of irrationality, violent hatreds, changes of heart, indefensible decisions, violence, plotting, malice and borderline

They are not dangerous enough to be confined. They are not criminal enough to be locked up. They have the same privileges and freedoms as their fellows, though they frequently use their individual rights to undermine the individual rights of others.

At any instant of any day in any life, one of these potential mad dogs may run amuck. The only personal protection against them is the law of probability; that when it happens the mad dog's victim will be someone else. But it can be any one who gets in the way.

John F. Kennedy, 35th president of the United States, happened to be in the path of Oswald when he ran amuck the final time. Presidents of the United States, being in the public eye, always face a special risk, as President Kennedy well

This acceleration of teen-agers seeking work comes when the unemployment rate for this age group is already high. Ten years ago, roughly 10 per cent of the teen-age labor force was out of work. This has climbed to a 14-15 per cent range in the intervening years.

Now with a greatly increased crop of 18-year-olds being thrown into a market already glutted with others seeking work, the problem and attending discontent undoubtedly will grow very quickly.

To this problem is added the rapidly accelerating turn to automation, which hits the unskilled in two vulnerable spots. The number of positions available is reduced, while the new jobs created can be Unemployment, moreover isn't confined to the lower age brackets. The goal of a 4 per cent rate of unemployment for the entire labor force now seems virtually unattainable.

In the coming year, the Labor Department expects about 1.4 million to be added to the labor force, compared with 1.25 million added last year.

Odd Facts

The popular gin-and-tonic drink originated in the heyday of the British Empire, when English soldiers in the jungles of Burma and India drank quinine tonic as an antidote to malaria. The Tommies, seeing an opportunity to make life more pleasant, began adding shots of gin to their tonic - and soon the fad found its way back to England.

"Big Ben" is the great bell in the clock tower of the Houses of Parliament in London. It weighs 131/2 tons and first boomed out in 1859. It was installed during the time that tall, stout Sir Benjamin Hall served as Commissioner of Works. He was known as Big Ben, and members of parliament named the bell for him.

The popular expression, "Indian giver," originated back in Colonial days in America when the Indians apparently expected an equivalent for any gift. If they did not receive one, they demanded the return of their gifts.

The horseshoe, as an emblem of good luck, dates back to the Second Century and one of the most common explanations for its supposedly protective powers is its fancied resemblance to the nimbus or halo traditionally pictured above the heads of saints and angels.

In ensuing months there was other such criticism of the bureau by followers and colleagues of Rev. King. These were sensitive days in the national life of the nation on the civil rights front. Mr. Hoover determined to strike back at the criticism, but did not want to complicate matters at the time. Then a year ago came the tragic assassination of President John Kennedy. The entire inner world of national security was in turmoil. Investigations gave birth to ever expanding investigations. Many of these crossed national boundaries.

Energies were absorbed by these probes and liaison work with the Warren Commission. The director held his verbal fire as the presidential campaign began running parallel to the final days of the commission's probing, analysis and writing of the monumental report.

ANOTHER COMMENT in connection with the observance of the anniversary of the as sassination of President Kennedy has been expressed by many people. However fitting this was a year after the tragedy, they deplore the idea of celebrating the anniversary of an assassination.

They suggest there should rather be memorials and celebrations of a constructive character on the birthday of a president of the United States who has become a martyr. Thus, for example, the day on which Abraham Lincoln was assassinated is not made an occasion for nationwide observance. dits. Having relieved the bandits of their valuables, the legislators proceeded to their picnic. This, of course, is not an accurate description of modern state legislators. For one thing, they lack the old-time vigor. But many of them are putting up quite a fight — a fight they cannot possibly win - a fight to preserve "rotten boroughs.

The term rotten borough derives from British parliamentary history. The big dictionary defines a rotten borough thus: "An election district that has many fewer inhabitants than other election districts with the same voting power.

This exactly describes the situation now prevailing in most states of the Union. There has been a tremendous growth in the population of cities and suburbs, especially the latter, but the outnumbered rural folks still control - or at least exercise a veto power - in most state legislatures.

In some cases the state constitutions called for mandatory reapportionment after each census but legislators blithely ignored this requirement, in some cases for as long as 60 years.

A lawyer from one of those states requested more time from the Supreme Court.

"How long do we have to wait?" asked Chief Justice Earl Warren, with the air of a man who is tired of waiting.

Now the law of the land — as pronounced by the Supreme Court - is "one man, one vote" - that is, legislative districts have to be equal in population, as nearly as practicable. So there is nationwide fer-work comes when the unemployment rate for this age group is already high. Ten years ago, roughly 10 per cent of the teen-age labor force was out of work. This has climbed to a 14-15 per cent range in the intervening years.

Now with a greatly increased crop of 18-year-olds being thrown into a market already glutted with others seeking work, the problem and attending discontent un-

That is how Thanksgiving was before families dispersed. It's still that way some places - and blessed are those places. They have preserved the essence of the most distinctive American holiday, except Independence Day.

American have forgotten too much about giving thanks, to say nothing of asserting independence.

Odd Facts

The popular gin-and-tonic drink originated in the heyday of the British Empire, when English soldiers in the jungles of Burma and India drank quinine tonic as an antidote to malaria. The Tommies, seeing an opportunity to make life more pleasant, began adding shots of gin to their tonic - and soon the fad found its way back to England.

"Big Ben" is the great bell in the clock tower of the Houses of Parliament in London. It weighs 131/2 tons and first boomed out in 1859. It was installed during the time that tall, stout Sir Benjamin Hall served as Commissioner of Works. He was known as Big Ben, and members of parliament named the bell for him.

The popular expression, "Indian giver," originated back in Colonial days in America when the Indians apparently expected an equivalent for any gift. If they did not receive one, they demanded the return of

Victor Riesel

Mr. Hoover waited until his denunciation of Rev. King would not become entangled in national politics nor complicate the conduct of international affairs by the White House.

Specifically, the FBI chief was first irked by a story appearing on Nov. 20, 1962, in the Chicago Defender, a Negro newspaper. In a two - column, three - line, 36-point head, the newspaper said: "FBI Sides With Dixie, Says King."

Beneath the accusing head ran a strongly written report of an interview with Rev. King obtained after he had finished a dramatic speech before an audience of 3,000 in New York's Riverside Church.

STATEMENTS in the story that the FBI was encouraging segregation offended the FBI

The story said that Rev. King made this charge against the bureau. It added that the FBI had refused to investigate beatings and other intimidations of Negroes fighting for equality in Albany, Ga

"One of the great problems we face with the FBI," the Southern leader is quoted as saying, "in the South is that the agents are white Southerners who have been influenced by the mores of the community. To maintain their status they have to be friendly with the local police and people who are promoting segregation.

It was reported further that Rev. King alleged that every time he saw an FBI man in Albany, the agent was with local police. This is what Mr. Hoover resented.

He was affronted by charges that the FBI men were doing nothing when informed of violent acts against Negroes.

THE DIRECTOR felt that this reflected on the integrity of himself and the entire FBI. The story and quotes were checked out and found accurate.

In ensuing months there was other such criticism of the bureau by followers and colleagues of Rev. King. These were sensitive days in the national life of the nation on the civil rights front. Mr. Hoover determined to strike back at the criticism, but did not want to complicate matters at the time. Then a year ago came the tragic assassination of President John Kennedy. The entire inner world of national security was in turmoil. Investigations gave birth to ever expanding investigations. Many of these crossed national boundaries. Energies were absorbed by these probes and liaison work with the Warren Commission. The director held his verbal fire as the presidential campaign began running parallel to the final days of the commission's probing, analysis and writing of the monumental report

WITH ITS RELEASE on Sept. 26, the FBI chief again was projected into the national limelight. This came a few days after the Negro leader-now considered the spokesman for the entire embattled American Negro community—was received by His Holiness Pope Paul in a private audience on Sept. 18. The moment was inappropriate for any controversy.

A few weeks later, on Oct. 14. Rev. King received the Nobel Peace Prize and again was an international figure. Then followed the final weeks of the election. Mr. Hoover waited for the quiet moment in our national and international life to say publicly what he had had on his mind. He wanted to cite the record of FBI agents in Mississippi and elsewhere. About a week after Election

Whether he acted wisely only the weeks before Jan. 1 will tell. Then he will be at retirement age. The pressure on President Johnson to oust him is intense. The director has not the slightest intention of retiring. He considers the controversy closed.

Unanswered Question

Assassination Remains Threat To President

Now that the eulogies have these, there were no references been written and memorial ceremonials observed throughout the world for the late President John F. Kennedy on the anniversary of his assassination, there still is an unanswered question. It is: What has been done and can be done to prevent the David Lawrence repetition of such a tragedy? While a year has elapsed, it is unfortunately true that not much progress toward a solution of this problem has been made. Guns of all kinds still are possessed by people who ought not to have them, and there are no restraints placed upon persons of unbalanced mind who might use such

What is even more regrettable is that no change has been made in the procedures of presidential trips or tours which attract a multitude of people.

The fact that a president takes such chances has been put forth as a sign of courage, but, in truth, the people of the United States should not be subjected to the risks involved in the sudden loss of a president.

EVER SINCE the Warren Commission report was filed, there has been much debate about investigations of persons who might pose a threat to the life of a president.

It isn't a question of whether the FBI and the Secret Service shall be combined or shall continue to operate as separate agencies. It's primarily a task of gathering information about irresponsible persons in this country who happen to have murder weapons. It's the availability of guns to unblanced individuals which has not yet been tackled as a major problem in America.

Both the FBI and the Secret Service receive right along thousands of letters of a threatening nature which are turned over to these agencies by interested citizens. It takes a good deal of time and money to investigate these cases, but this should not be a discouragement to the governmental agencies concerned

One little-mentioned phase of the problem which worries the investigative agencies is the tendency on the part of some and dedicated to his memory. of the press to print references to threatening letters and sometimes to publish the texts of

This, it has been argued, acts as a form of mental suggestion to those who may be of unbalanced mind. There was a time in Washington when the press never mentioned threats or attempts to harm a president, and even if individuals were arrested in connection with made to such occurrences.

WHETHER this theory is a correct one and whether the psychiatrists can defend the thesis that it would be better to say nothing about such arrests than to mention them in print is open to debate.

Sooner or later a scientific study of this problem will be made, and doubtless the press will be willing to cooperate if it can be shown that a benefit can be derived from withholding publicity on the threats themselves.

It's a known fact that since Lee Harvey Oswald assassinated President Kennedy with a long-range rifle, there have been attempts to procure weapons of the same kind, and apprehension has developed that there might be a repetition of a similar occurrence on future presidential trips.

The subject is related to the whole question of crime. The streets in many a city are today dangerous, particularly after dark and to persons on foot. The local police force is usually inadequate.

There are not enough policemen available to keep watch on every area in cities and towns where crimes are likely to occur. Public funds are being spent for all kinds of purposes supposed to be beneficial to

What is needed today is not merely a "great society" but

ANOTHER COMMENT in connection with the observance

They suggest there should rather be memorials and celebrations of a constructive character on the birthday of a president of the United States who has become a martyr. Thus, for example, the day on which Abraham Lincoln was assassinated is not made an occasion for nationwide observance. It's his birthday which is celebrated on May 29, 1917. He risked his life for his country in peace as well as in war. The American people can pay tribute to a courageous individual by celebrating his birthday, instead of by perpetuating the memory of a day on which an irresponsible and deranged citizen took the life of a president and changed the course of the history of curate description of modern state legislators. For one thing, they lack the old-time vigor. But many of them are putting up quite a fight - a fight they cannot possibly win - a fight to preserve "rotten boroughs." The term rotten borough derives from British parliamentary history. The big dictionary defines a rotten borough thus:

"An election district that has many fewer inhabitants than other election districts with the same voting power.' This exactly describes the situation now prevailing in most states of the Union. There has been a tremendous growth in the population of cities and suburbs, especially the latter, but the outnumbered rural folks still control - or at least exercise a veto power - in most state legislatures.

In some cases the state constitutions called for mandatory reapportionment after each census but legislators blithely ignored this requirement, in some cases for as long as 60 years.

A lawyer from one of those states requested more time from the Supreme Court. "How long do we have to wait?" asked Chief Justice Earl Warren, with the air of a man who is tired of waiting. Now the law of the land - as pronounced by the Supreme Court - is "one man, one vote" - that is, legislative districts have to be equal in population, as nearly as practicable.

So there is nationwide ferment, special sessions of legislatures, with federal courts breathing down their necks. The way as to give up as little power as possible.

LISBON - Tradditional observance of Thanksgiving will also mark Ohio American Cancer Society Research Day to highlight the part Columbiana County plays in the $11,-980,175 yearly national, co-ordinated research program of the American Cancer Society.

In a local ceremony recently, James L. McBride, 1964 Cancer Crusade chairman of the Columbiana County unit, is shown turning over to Mrs. Audrey Newtz of East Liverpool, unit president, a check for $4,400, which represents the county's share in the allout national research attack.

throughout Ohio's 88 counties. Transmittal of these funds, which is 25 per cent of local contributions to the April Cancer Crusade, brings Ohio's total investment in the American Cancer Society's national research program to $510,414.

We are proud, and thankful, for the generosity of our citizens, especially at this time, to be able to assume our proper share in this gigantic countrywide effort to find the cause and cure for cancer," Mrs. Newtz said.

She pointed out that over the last 19 years, the American Cancer Society has plowed Similar ceremonies took place | more than $138 million into cancer research. The beatnik brush is on the wane but beards are big on Broadway this year. Most of the major new plays and some of the holdovers from last year have at least one actor behind whiskers.

The shape of the Broadway beards varies with the play. Some are neatly cultivated and carefully manicured but the style runs the gamut from neat brush to scraggly unkempt bushes. A few would stand out in a coffeehouse.

The actors sporting beards on the stage have grown their own but at least one actor, Robin Ramsay, who plays Fagin in "Oliver!", pads his whiskers with artificial hair. The total effect is that of a chin-fitted fright wig.

Beards have their advantages, too. There is less face to cover, therefore less time is spent on makeup. At least this is the case with Zero Mostel in "Fiddler on the Roof." Portly Zero has let both his hair and whiskers down for his role in the musical. Fred Clark in "Absence of a Cello" isn't as fortunate . . . the effect of his grizzly chin is offset by a receding hairline.

It's too early to tell, but the Broadway beards might offset the inroads made by the Beatle hairdos. It might be a trend in the right direction.

Carl Low in neatly trimmed beard with David Carradine in "The Deputy."

Hairy Robin Ramsay and Judy Bruce in "Oliver!"

"The Physicists," starring Robert Shaw, takes place in insane asylum.

Snowden Wins 27th Booth Award; Maltarich Is MVP

By BOB DUFFY

Rveiew Sports Editor Co-captains Mike Snowden and Bob Maltarich walked off with the highest awards in East Liverpool High School football when the 1964 Potter grid squad was honored at the Nonpareil Club's annual banquet Tuesday night at the Trinity Presbyterian

A crowd of over 300 stood to applaud Snowden, East Liverpool's 190-pound tackle, who became the 27th recipient of the Bill Booth Memorial Award.

Snowden, who was injured the last half of the season, was a standout offensively and defensively for the Potters in the six games he saw action.

Carl A. (Pop) Werner, general secretary of the YMCA, presented the award to Snowden who succeeds Bruce Burbick, the 1963 winner.

Maltarich, who quarterbacked the Potters to a 7-2-1 record this season, was selected the most valuable player on a vote by members of the team. The 6-2 Maltarich hit on .500 per cent of his passes this season and was one of the team's leading ground gainers.

Maltarich also was named the Potters' best offensive back. The MVP trophy was presented for the third year by the East Liverpool Review.

Five other ELHS gridders were presented awards for their outstandnig performances during the campaign and were picked for the awards by the Potter coaching staff.

Tim Grafton was named the best defensive back while tackle Chuck Taylor carried off the best offensive lineman award and guard Tom Leon was cited as the top defensive lineman.

Tom Logan, a small but hardhitting defensive man, was named the best linebacker and Denny Burke, the team's leading rusher and scorer, was selected the most improved player on the 1964 team.

Burke was sidelined by an injury throughout his junior season but was a key factor in the success of the Potters during the past season.

The awards were presented by Coach Bob McNea.

McNea spoke briefly and claimed "I couldn't have been prouder of a team than this present East Liverpool squad."

"In our final game with Alliance some people were scared we would lose to Alliance and would be glad to settle for a tie. One thing in my life I think of is winning, that's why we play the game to win."

Snowden Wins 27th Booth Award; Maltarich Is MVP

Rveiew Sports Editor

Co-captains Mike Snowden and Bob Maltarich walked off with the highest awards in East Liverpool High School football when the 1964 Potter grid squad was honored at the Nonpareil Club's annual banquet Tuesday night at the Trinity Presbyterian

A crowd of over 300 stood to applaud Snowden, East Liverpool's 190-pound tackle, who became the 27th recipient of the Bill Booth Memorial Award.

Snowden, who was injured the last half of the season, was a standout offensively and defensively for the Potters in the six games he saw action.

Carl A. (Pop) Werner, general secretary of the YMCA, presented the award to Snowden the 1963 winner.

Maltarich, who quarterbacked the Potters to a 7-2-1 record this season, was selected the most valuable player on a vote by members of the team. The 6-2 Maltarich hit on .500 per cent of his passes this season and was one of the team's leading ground gainers.

Maltarich also was named the Potters' best offensive back. The MVP trophy was presented for the third year by the East Liverpool Review.

Five other ELHS gridders were presented awards for their outstandnig performances during the campaign and were picked for the awards by the

Potter coaching staff. Tim Grafton was named the best defensive back while tackle best offensive lineman award and guard Tom Leon was cited as the top defensive lineman.

Tom Logan, a small but hardhitting defensive man, was named the best linebacker and Denny Burke, the team's leading rusher and scorer, was selected the most improved player on the 1964 team.

Burke was sidelined by an injury throughout his junior season but was a key factor in the success of the Potters during the past season.

The awards were presented by Coach Bob McNea.

McNea spoke briefly and claimed "I couldn't have been prouder of a team than this present East Liverpool squad." "In our final game with Alliance some people were scared would be glad to settle for a tie. One thing in my life I think of is winning, that's why we play the game to win."

"I am proud of this team for the way it came through under pressure with everyone contrib-uting to the victory," McNea

He cited the victory over Martins Ferry when the team was behind but came back to win by scoring late in the game to turn the tide.

"Football is fun to me and the greatest joy these boys can get out of football is achievement," McNea said.

Twenty - three seniors, five juniors and one sophomore were honored with varsity letters presented by McNea and the coaching staff.

Thursday

Alabama over Auburn: Neither team has its ace quarterback, Joe Namath for Alabama and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn, in the best condition for this titanic finale. Alabama has the greater number of reserves plus the stingiest defense.

Texas over Texas A&M: Because Tommy Nobis and Ernie Koy play for Texas.

Tulsa over Wichita: Jerry Rhome rewrites the record book in passing.

Saturday

Navy over Army: An unprecedented sixth straight triumph for the sailors over the soldiers. All of Roger Staubach's Navy playmates have healed while Army quarterback Rollie Stichwech will have to operate behind a patched up

Notre Dame over Southern California: Michigan State clobbered Southern California and got clobbered by Notre Dame.

Georgia Tech over Georgia: A spot for an upset.

Orangemen, Tulsa Tops In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) - The college football season isn't over vet but there's no question about the 1964 team offense champions. They're Tulsa in total offense, passing and scor- 11 ing and Syracuse in rushing.

On defense its another matter. Two new leaders turned up in the team statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau and there's a possibility of another change or two after the season-ending games this week. Auburn took over the total defense lead this week with an

kansas in defense against scoring. The unbeaten Razorbacks made Texas Tech their fifth straight shutout victim and ended the season with an allowance of 5.7 points per game. So for a final whirl along the edge of Upset Gulch while balancing the crystal ball on a denuded drumstick.

Thursday

Alabama over Auburn: Neither team has its ace quarterback, Joe Namath for Alabama and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn, in the best condition for this titanic finale. Alabama has the greater number of reserves plus the stingiest defense.

Texas over Texas A&M: Because Tommy Nobis and Ernie Koy play for Texas.

Tulsa over Wichita: Jerry Rhome rewrites the record book in passing.

Saturday

Navy over Army: An unprecedented sixth straight triumph for the sailors over the soldiers. All of Roger Staubach's Navy playmates have healed while Army quarterback Rollie Stichwech will have to operate behind a patched up

Orangemen, Tulsa Tops In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) - The college football season isn't over yet but there's no question about the 1964 team offense champions. They're Tulsa in total offense, passing and scoring and Syracuse in rushing.

On defense its another matter. Two new leaders turned up in the team statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau and there's a possibility of another change or two after the season-ending games this week.

Auburn took over the total defense lead this week with an defense lead this week.

average allowance of 155.8 yards per game. But the Tigers still have to hold Alabama, which has averaged 320.6 yards on offense this season, to a little more than half that allowance to be sure of the title. Runner-up Lousiana State, with a 166.7 beginning $1001, four and up. 6 furlongs.

Alabama is the only contender still active, but the Tide could keep the title in the Southeastern Conference by limiting Auburn to three points or less on Thurs-

Tulsa, gearing its offense to Jerry Rhome's passing and Howard Twilley's catching, has a total offense average of 477.3 yards, including 327.2 yards a game on passes. The Hurricanes have scored 40.3 points a game and need only 37 in their final against Wichita Thursday to become the first major team to average 40 points since Oklahoma in 1956.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Harry W. Stacey, who passed away 7 years ago today, Nov. 25, 1957: There is someone who misses you sadly, And finds the time long since you went. There is someone who thinks of you always. And tries to be brave and content. Gone is the face we loved so dear, silent the voice we loved to hear: 'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why, The best are always first to die. — Sadly missed by Mother. ### ANNOUNCEMENTS

IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Harry IN loving memory of Harry W. Stacey, who passed away 7 years ago today, Nov. 25, 1957:
There is someone who misses you sadly, And finds the time long since you went, There is someone who thinks of you always. And tries to be brave and content. Gone is the face we loved so dear, silent the voice we loved to hear: 'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why, The best are always first to die. — Sadly missed by Mother, Daughter, Wife, Sister and Brothers

-Junior Editors Quiz on FROGS

QUESTION: Where do the frogs go when the pond freezes over?

ANSWER: We often forget what a wonderful little creature a frog is. Consider that after one hatches from an egg he's just a helpless little object, with no limbs, not even a mouth — all he has is a sucking pad with which he can hang to the bottom of a water weed (1) and wait for things to happen, which they do, fast. He gets gills, to breathe air from the water (2), a mouth, so he can eat. His body soon swells; he gets a fine long tail and becomes a free swimming tadpole (3). Then hind legs begin to appear, and the beginnings of lungs (4), so he can breathe air out of the water. His front legs arrive, the big tail is absorbed (5), he hops out on land a frog! But these are not all the tricks nature presented him with. As the weather grows cold, the cold blooded frog must find shelter or freeze to death. He burrows down into the mud on the bottom of his pond and goes into the torpid state called hibernation. He doesn't move, he doesn't need to eat. He has shut his nose, so how can he breathe? The frog possessses the power, shared by some other primitive animals, of breathing through his skin. This gives him the little air he needs until spring.

FOR YOU TO DO: Many other creatures survive a cold winter without hibernating. Find out what some of them are.

We Count Our Blessing

Once again Thanksgiving approaches and we want to sincerely extend the Season's Greetings to you.

WE ARE THANKFUL for the blessing of living in our wonderful homeland where everyone enjoys the many freedoms so few other nations permit.

WE ARE THANKFUL for the opportunities you give us to serve you and that we are privileged to compound the prescriptions which restore health and so often saves lives.

AND, - WE ARE PARTICULARLY THANKFUL that everyone of us have the privilege, on this Thanksgiving, or any other day to visit the Church or Temple of our choice and gratefully give thanks to "HE, WHOSE MERCY ENDURETH FOREVER."
